Discipline, Punishment, Rewards & Praise

We want the best for our children. We want them to be kind to others, to know right from wrong, and to be motivated to work towards their goals. So how do we get there when our children say "no" and do the opposite of what we just asked? Join us as we build understanding around children's behaviours, revisit the traditional tactics used by caregivers, and explore alternative strategies to consequences and rewards that focus on lasting change.
